

BE HOPE

Three Asks
for a Fairer,
Safer and More
Peaceful World

Australia - a force for good in the world.

Our Vision

Australia has always been at its best when it looks beyond its shores and contributes to building a safer, fairer and more peaceful world. Caring about the suffering of others and doing what we reasonably can to alleviate it is both a moral imperative and essential to Australia's long-term security, prosperity and influence.

We are a movement of everyday Australians who believe our country has both the opportunity and responsibility to help address the defining challenges of our time. Through Be Hope, we are calling on Australia to step forward as a confident champion of People, Planet and Peace.

Why This Matters

As conflict rises, climate impacts deepen and parts of the international system come under increasing strain, global risks are growing. Millions of people face poverty, preventable disease, conflict and displacement.

While Australia cannot solve these shared challenges by itself, we can play a meaningful role in reducing suffering, strengthening cooperation and contributing to peace and stability. In an increasingly uncertain world, countries that help solve global problems earn trust, strengthen partnerships and build influence.

By acting in line with our values and responsibilities, Australia can help protect people, safeguard the planet and strengthen peace.

Our Three Asks

PEOPLE

Increase Australia's aid budget to 1% of the Federal Budget including a doubling of investment in global health.

PLANET

Keep 1.5°C alive by phasing out fossil fuels and accelerating the transition to renewable energy in line with net zero by 2035.

PEACE

Champion international cooperation and strong multilateral institutions.

PEOPLE

Global health and development

Millions lack access to basic healthcare, nutrition and opportunity

Aid saves lives and strengthens stability across our region

Strong health systems build resilience against current and future crises

What we're asking for

Increase Australia's aid budget to 1% of the Federal Budget including a doubling of investment in global health.

PLANET

Climate leadership

Climate change is the single greatest threat to health, livelihoods and security globally

Failure to act will mean greater loss of life, livelihoods and natural systems

As host of COP31 negotiations, Australia has a responsibility and opportunity to show genuine leadership on climate action

What we're asking for

Keep 1.5°C alive by phasing out fossil fuels and accelerating the transition to renewable energy in line with net zero by 2035.

Commit to net zero by 2035 to align Australia with the global effort needed to keep 1.5°C alive

End fossil fuel subsidies and stop approving new coal and gas

Support community climate resilience in our region by contributing our fair share of global climate finance

PEACE

Cooperation over conflict

Global challenges cannot be solved alone

Cooperation prevents suffering and builds stability

Strong institutions help manage shared crises

What we're asking for

Champion international cooperation and support for international rules that prevent conflict and manage global challenges.

Champion the value of international cooperation

Support the effectiveness and continual improvement of international institutions including the United Nations and World Health Organisation

Work with other middle powers and Pacific leadership to build coalitions capable of addressing shared challenges

A More Hopeful Future

Australia has a proud history of making a global difference. Through cooperation, fairness and leadership, we have helped shape a more peaceful world before - and we can do so again.

By choosing people, planet and peace, Australia can help build a future defined not by crisis and division, but by a sense of hope, dignity and shared progress.

HOPE

The Be Hope campaign is supported by Results Australia and our community of volunteer advocates. We believe that no matter where people are born, everyone should have equal opportunities to fulfil their potential in life.
